EY announces Legion Logistics' President Lacy Starling is an EY Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2015 Award finalist in Ohio Valley

Cincinnati, OH, April 15, 2015 – EY today announced that President Lacy Starling of Legion Logistics, LLC is a finalist for the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2015 Awards in the Ohio Valley Region. The awards program recognizes entrepreneurs who demonstrate excellence and extraordinary success in such areas as innovation, financial performance and personal commitment to their businesses and communities. Starling was selected as a finalist by a panel of independent judges. Award winners will be announced at a special gala event on June 4, 2015 at the Hyatt Regency in Cincinnati.

"I am excited and honored to be a finalist for this prestigious award," Starling said. "When I founded Legion in the basement of my home, I never dreamed we would have over $25 million in sales and be one of the fastest growing companies in the nation within the first five years. It's been quite a ride, and I'm looking forward to the next five years." Legion has won numerous awards for its commitment to veterans and service members, its employee-friendly environment, and its growth, including being #156 on the Inc. 500 list for 2014.

Now in its 29th year, the program has expanded to recognize business leaders in more than 145 cities in more than 60 countries throughout the world.

Regional award winners are eligible for consideration for the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year National program. Award winners in several national categories, as well as the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year National Overall Award winner, will be announced at the annual awards gala in Palm Springs, California, on November 14, 2015. The awards are the culminating event of the EY Strategic Growth Forum®, the nation's most prestigious gathering of high-growth, market-leading companies.
